Anti-abortion

To the Editor:

In now eleven years after the horrible supreme court decision legalizing abortion, the murder of unborn, yet very much alive, children. Over four thousand per day, one and a half million per year poor innocent unborn children are ripped and torn out of their mother's wombs and thrown into the garbage.

In the Word of our God, in Exodus, Chapter 20, verse 15, the sixth commandment of the Lord is given to Moses, "Thou shalt not kill." This is a COMMANDMENT from God. And yet we continue to murder thousands upon thousands of innocent unborn children each day.

Again the Word of our God, in John, Chapter 14, verse 15, the Lord says, "If ye love me, keep my commandments." We have abandoned the commandments of the Lord. We have become a nation of God-haters, not God-lovers. How long can God withhold His wrath from us? Surely we deserve it. And surely it will come to pass, unless we repent, and turn back to God.

In concluding, I would once again like to turn to the Word of our God, in II Thessalonians, Chapter 1, verses 8 and 9, as we are told of the wrath our God will pour out upon us if we do not forsake our evil ways, repent of them, and turn back to God: "In flaming fire taking VENGEANCE on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ: who shall be PUNISHED with EVERLASTING DESTRUCTION from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of His power."

May God have mercy on us.

Encore Theatre

To the editor,

There is an old saying that goes: Blessed are they who expect nothing, for they will not be disappointed.

This should have been the attitude of all of us at Encore Theatre when we had started to organize our group – to expect nothing – because it is almost what we have been receiving as far as cooperation is concerned. It really surprises and exasperates me to think how little the people of Carbondale appreciate culture.

As you may know, we are still in our "infant stages" of production. We still do not have a roof over our heads in which to perform and rehearse. There have been people who have been willing to accommodate us with our problem, and to them we are very grateful; but we are like a group of "wandering Jews," never knowing from one day to the next where our next rehearsal will take place. It is really quite perturbing.

As you may also know, we have held our performances and major rehearsals at Carbondale Area High School, a transaction of which I do not approve, but since I am not a member of the theatre's board of directors, I just have to grin and bear it. Now, don't get me wrong, I have nothing against the school, but it seems that a few members of the school board appear to have something against us, and that makes occupying this building, to me, seem quite uncomfortable. It appears that whenever we hold a rehearsal or performance in that building, we are being accused of at least nine or ten things that we had done to deface the school. Truly unjust accusations.

I know that this is getting slightly off the subject, but I am a resident of Fell Township, and I, for one, was against this school jointure from the start. Fell High School, my alma mater, in my opinion, was a beautiful school until it became Fell Elementary School. I may be overwhelmingly criticized for saying this, but I really do not like the condition that building is in today. As a matter of fact, it breaks my heart to see the condition that building is in today; a condition, I believe, which would not have existed if this jointure had not taken place.

I am not saying that Fell students were born with haloes, while Carbondale -students were born with horns, but look at it this way: Why hadn't the building looked like it does now when it was occupied by only Fell students? What I am trying to point out is: First, and indirectly to the point – If the Fell building was in near to perfect shape when occupied by only Fell students, and, as they tell me, the Carbondale buildings were in fairly satisfactory shape when occupied by only Carbondale students, then there must be something wrong with this unification. But that, as I said before, was indirectly to the point, and having no bearing on us whatsoever. Second, and directly to the point: "He who is without sin, let him cast the first stone" meaning that I really do not think that these few members of the school board should make a big thing out of, or accuse anyone else of the same thing that their predecessors, or maybe even they, themselves, were instrumentally guilty of doing to another school – namely Fell High. I say to them, "Look in the mirror before you condemn someone else."

I had always thought that Carbondale Area High School was a public building for public utilization. These few members of the school board act as if it were their personal private homes. I believe that they charge enough to rent the auditorium without us having to listen to their complaints and unjust accusations afterwards.

Another thing – How do they know that it was us that had caused the disturbing conditions of their environment? Can they prove it? We were not the only group of people who had held performances and/or activities in that building. We are not hoodlums and I don't see why we have to be looked upon as such. Why don't they try walking a mile in our shoes?

I had recently participated in a production of "Hair" with the Northern Stars Players in November 1982. This production was held at the Jermyn Community House in Jermyn, and it was really very refreshing how well we were treated and received there. There were no curfews, no complaints and very, very few restrictions. It is really surprising how strangers will bend over backwards to help, while here in our own town (and it is that for a majority of the members of Encore Theatre), they just don't seem to care. Why I had just read recently where a small town in Florida, much smaller in size and population than Carbondale, had actually raised money and built a theatre for their community theatre group.

I am not saying that we are perfect. Heaven knows we're far from it, but we are not angels of Satan either. We are just a group of struggling thespians trying to bring a small amount of culture into this town; but we need the help and cooperation of each and every one of you in order to do so. As the saying goes: "Be to our virtues very kind. Be to our faults, a little blind."

I rest my case.

Sincerely,
Rita Regina Ruddy

New street dept. head says city needs grader

By MIKE PETROVSKY

For years Carbondale residents have been complaining about the condition of the streets in the winter time and this year, with the record cold temperatures and snow, is no exception.

The problem is all the streets are front up with ice and we need a grader to take care of it," recently appointed street department head Frank Mancuso told the NEWS last Wednesday. "A grader is the only vehicle capable of going up the city's steep ice covered hills."

Mancuso said it would cost the city between $35,000 and $40,000 for a new grader, and given the city's current financial situation, it is not likely that the street department would take that route. Mancuso hopes the city can find enough money to buy a good used grader. Repairing the 30-year-old grader the city already owns is another option, according to the street department head. The NEWS was told that there are plans being considered to take the city's grader to a trade school where the students would work on it and the city would only have to pay for the parts while giving the students hands-on experience.

Mancuso was in doubt that parts for the old grader could even be found. Paul Daniels, street department employee, said that to get the grader started its fuel injection pump would have to be fixed, and that once it is started other problems the grader might have will be able to be detected.

Mancuso's department has managed to get three of the city's four trucks operational. Working are two dump trucks used for salting and cindering and a four wheel drive 30-year-old Army pickup truck for plowing. Street department employees are currently in the process of changing timing gears in the one remaining truck, a 1951 Dodge Army three-quarter ton pickup. Mancuso said that because the city's equipment is Army surplus and because it's so old, replacement parts are hard to come by, and that because Army equipment uses special heavy duty parts they cost more to be replaced, that is the reason he is getting parts rebuilt rather than purchasing new ones. The NEWS was told that in his first week as street department head, Mancuso has saved the city over $1,000 by rebuilding parts for the equipment.

Mancuso has purchased cutting edges for two blades which enable a snow plow to remove snow closer to the road surface. Mancuso has also set up a "block system" whereby certain streets will get snow removal priority and will be used as emergency routes during and after a snow storm. There are four such emergency routes in the city.

Mancuso also favors salting roads before a predicted snow storm. When the snow has fallen the salt along with the snow would be plowed to the side of the road, then melt the snow banks caused on each side of the road as a result of the plowing.
